Special Issue:

The Passage Followed by the Japanese Students Overseas and What They Brought in

The Way How the Gagaku (imperial court music) Came into Japan
Shinichiro Watanabe

The Passage of the Japanese Envoys to the Tang Dynasty: With a Special Reference to the Great Canal
Taichi Nakamura

The Chinese Delegations to Japan and the Japanese Envoys to the Tang Dynasty in the Hoki Era
Towao Sakaehara

Ancient East Asian Sphere and Students from Japan and Silla to China

The Appearance in Chinese Historical Materials of the Name of a Country Name ‘Nippon’ Seen from the “Double-Evidence Method”
Yeh Kuo-Liang
translation: Ken Marui

Questions and Answers

“Look West” Activities among Silla Students
Kwon Deuk-young translation: Takahide Kobayashi

The Tang Dynasty’s Policy toward Foreigners
Wang Jian-xin

The Bringing in of the Chinese Classical and Buddhist Books into Japan by Students Overseas and Monks:
In the Cases of Kibi Makibi, Genbo and Shin Sho
Satoshi Ohira

General Discussion

Episode in Discussion
Hideyuki Iio

Article:

A Preliminary Study on the Newly Found Tomb Inscription of Sei Shinsei, a Japanese Student Overseas to the Tang Dynasty
Jia Mai-ming

Miscellany: